

As of MacOS Tahoe 26.4, Apple has made circumnavigating their latest security requirements even less obvious. The following steps can be followed to successfully activate your Odyssey Student license:

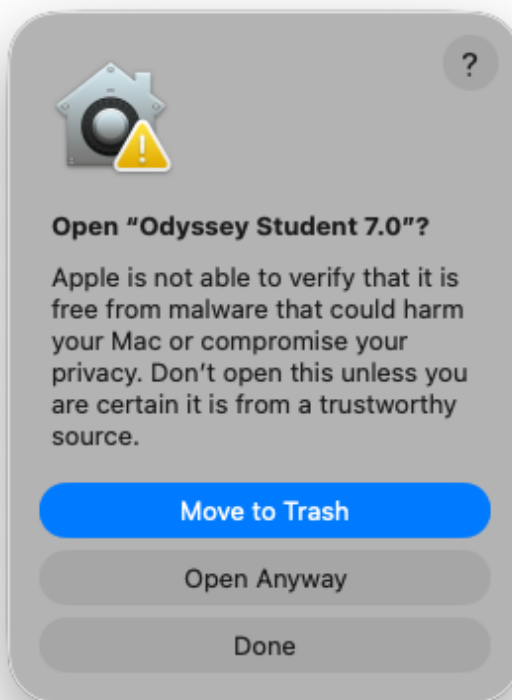

Click "Done"

Now go to System Settings->Privacy and Security, and scroll down to Security. The attempt to open shows up:

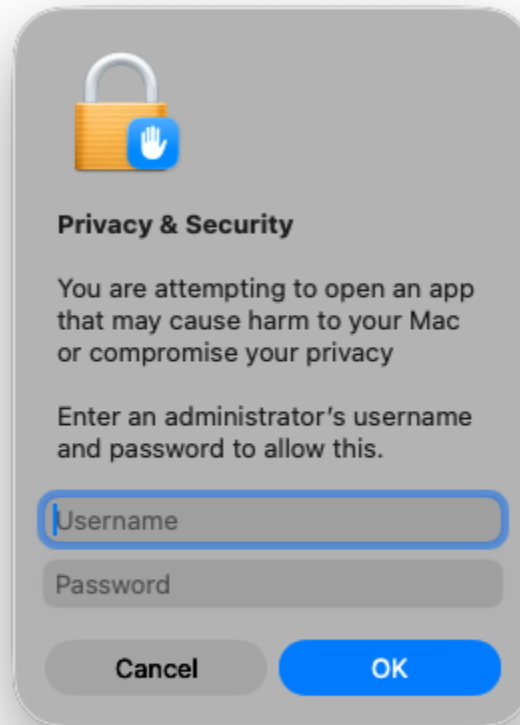

Click "Open Anyway"

Yet Another Scary Dialog will appear:

Click "Open Anyway" AGAIN.

Now a permissions dialog will appear:

You will need an admin-capable name and password (for most personal users, it is their normal login). Once this is done, Odyssey Student (or Instructor) will launch, and will launch in the future normally by double-clicking
